El Camino Sets 'Red Eye' Run

"The Red Eye of Love," the Arnold Weinstein comedy on the American way of life, will open at El Camino College tomorrow for a three day run. All performances will start at 8:30 p.m.

Identified as "a good humored allegory on the way we have lived during the past few decades" by Robert McKinnon, drama instructor and director of the production, the lampoon concerns a bizarre triangle.

Main characters of the merry-go-round are a money-eyed butcher, O. O. Martinus who writes poetry; a poor but idealistic inventor, Willmer Flante who is interested in security and securities, and a girl, Selma Chergesse, forced to decide between love and money.

Selma Chergesse is played by Lory Hansen with Flange and Martinus portrayed by Martin Lair and Todd Bingham Jr.

Other cast members are Curtis Clyne, Danny Goodwin, Tim Crable, Helen Garabedian, Terry Collier, Donny Gerstle, Christy Vasquez, Ron Berges, Gregg Anco, Yolanda Encino and Doug Phelps.

Tickets are on sale at the student store in the Campus Center.

Classes Set For Children On Saturday

Classes in art, French, Spanish and music for children at Marymount College are scheduled for Saturday mornings for the spring schedule of classes which begin on Feb. 1.

Art for children 9 to 12 will be taught by Sister Bernadette on Saturday from 10 to 11:30 in the campus art studio. A fee of $22 includes all art supplies.

French for children 6 to 12 will have Sister Josephine as the instructor. Sister Carmel Marie will teach Spanish for children 6 to 12. Both classes will meet from 10 to 11:30 a.m. on Saturday.

Sister Claude and Sister Carla Marie are directors of the children's chorus for vocalists ages 10 to 16, meeting from 10 to 11:30.

Fees for the Spanish and French classes are $20 and $10 for the children's chorus.

Opportunity Opens Theatre Doors

Readings for the next play to be presented by Palos Verdes Players will be held on Monday, January 25 and Tuesday, January 26 at 8 p.m. in the theatre at 2514 Via Tejon, Malaga Cove in Palos Verdes Estates. The production, "Dial M for Murder" will be directed by Buzz Hoffman and is scheduled to open March 12th.

PRESERVING TIME

The time capsule to be buried at the 1964 New York World's Fair will be filled with extensive records of man's present-day activities. Because it will be buried for 5000 years, the capsule is made of a corrosion-resistant special nickel stainless steel.
